“ Dr. Larkin was my professor at Alabama State University. She always exercised grace when grading me. I was bright, but not not focused, and she knew that. I will never forget how for test day she would always say " Come to class with a number 2 pencil, and a sharp mind. She will be missed.

“ I just received a card from Byrdie’s sister. I did not know of her passing. We always exchanged Christmas cards. My heart sank when I saw the card with a return address from her sister. I hesitated to open it, prolonging the news.

Byrdie was my professor at ASU. While there she became my advisor and mentor. Her advice and recommendation led me to a scholarship at Atlanta University, now Clark Atlanta University. I also taught some classes part time at ASU. She was always there giving me guidance.

I believe that one of the biggest rewards in life is to see the success of someone you mentored. I am successful partly because of Dr. Byrdie A Larkin. I am thankful for the impact she had on my life trajectory. And, I am sure that there are many students who would say the same of her. Rest in Heaven Byrdie. Your legacy lives on in the students you taught, advised, and mentored.

I'm so sorry to hear of your loss. We were roommates in Abercrombie Hall our freshman year. She was so sweet. It's heartening to know she made such a powerful impact in the classroom and out. Rest in peace, Byrdie.
